

SMC uses Okta to achieve Single Sign-On (SSO) with some applications and to assist with password management across a multitude of websites. Most of you should be familiar with Okta and how it works. If not, here is a refresher.

Point your browser at <https://1smc.okta.com>; you will see the prompt below.

From here you see your Okta workspace with application chicklets (icons). Each of these chicklets launches a website. You can also use the the search box at the top of screen to locate the application.
